

ENGLISH NEWSLETTER MOVIE

Worldwide digital release:
"Dialogue Earth", documentary by Hank Levine

can be seen through the Cologne based TVoD / Video on Demand platform Kino on Demand (KoD) www.kino-on-demand.com The booking details further below.

Due to the Pandemic the cinemas will unfortunately remain closed until further notice and we have therefore anticipated the movies digital distribution and moved its theatrical release in German cinemas – including the ones listed below – to a later date yet to be confirmed.

Just in time for the 50th anniversary of International Earth Day, on April 22, 2020, our film can be seen worldwide through cinema on demand.

We will participate with Dialogue Earth and Ulrike's One World Painting created during the making of the film. In the One World Painting Ulrike unites for the very first time in one painting earth colors from all the places she has visited over the past 40 years, to create a visual expression of the diversity of the continents and their peoples, as an articulation of unity, equality, peace and harmony. Her statement for the preservation and protection of our unique planet Earth.

2 minutes Movie Trailer:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aQnkEwgCfco&feature=emb\_title

www.ulrikearnold.com

DIALOGUE EARTH

Synopsis

Featuring incredible photography of spellbinding landscapes and a soundtrack by the Oscar nominated artist Volker Bertelmann aka Hauschka. Dialogue Earth offers a moving portrait of Ulrike Arnold who paints with earth and meteorites from remote areas all around the world, and now travels through archaic, mystical landscapes in the American Southwest, especially the wilderness of southern Utah. Her encounters with old friends, farewells to others who have passed away and the spirituality that Eli Secody of the Navajo Tribe finds in her paintings, lead us to contemplate her legacy and why her upbringing has led her to undergo a lifelong journey of seeking. The day she exhibits her work at White Pocket in the Vermilion Cliffs Wilderness, Trump announces his executive order permitting the dismantlement of national monuments, to open up more federal land for exploitation. Visiting the US-Mexican border with artist friend Peter Young, she reveals her plans for her next work: the One World Painting, bringing together all of the earth she has been collecting over the past four decades from all over the globe, as a statement to preserve our unique planet and as an articulation of unity, equality, peace and harmony. "It comes from within the Earth, spreads out to the Sun and continues on into space" – Eli Secody.

The 78-minute film is in six languages, six subtitled versions: Italian, French, Portuguese, Spanish, English or German. The spoken languages in the film are English and German.

To book Dialogue Earth for 48 hours:

please go to the Kino On Demand website www.kino-on-demand.com and register for free. The instructions are available only in German, therefore following some explanations. It's very user friendly.

Select "Alle Filme" (All Films) and then under "Suchen" ("Search") enter the film title Dialogue Earth and you will be taken directly to the movie's page. Alternatively you locate our Ulrike Arnold portrait by selecting under Filmkolektionen (Film Collections) - the section "Starke Frauen" (Strong Women) – together with Amy Winehouse, Vivian Maier, Vivienne Westwood and other icons of the art world – our film Dialogue Earth.

There, on our film page, under „Wähle das Kino aus, bei dem du diesen Film leihen möchtest“ ("Choose the cinema where you would like to rent this film") enter the name of a cinema you want to support, a cinema of your choice from the list or one of our partner cinemas that will exhibit Dialogue Earth at a later date, such as

Filmkunstkinos Düsseldorf

or Lichtblick Berlin

After you have chosen the cinema you go right below to "Bei diesem Kino für € 11,99.- ausleihen" ("Rent at this cinema for € 11,99.-") and pay by credit card, Paypal or direct debit or with cinema voucher. Please promote our movie, tell your friends and colleagues.

Contact:Hank Levine +34-722-383-352 hanklevine@mac.com// © All rights reserved 2019 Hank Levine Film & Music GmbH